

Join us for the latest Housing Lynn event!

On September 23rd at 6:00 PM, Housing Lynn will host a virtual forum to talk with the community about what kind of housing development they want in the city. MAPC will present work to date to identify types of sites suitable for different kinds of housing in Lynn. Attendees will be asked about their priorities for new housing, from design to affordability, via a live poll.

The presentation will be given in English with live Spanish interpretation. A video recording of the presentation and a survey for those who can't attend the forum will be posted on the project website after the event.
